

Exploit the potential of Open Educational Source for on-line language learning!

On 3rd and 4th April 2017, the partners of the E-Cal Project gathered in Empoli (Italy) for the 3rd Partner Meeting. The meeting was the occasion to revise the work done until now and to program the future steps.

All Intellectual Outputs have been discussed, identifying recommendations and possible evolution for version n°2. On the project's webpage, the user can now find the following materials, freely downloadable in English, French, Italian, German and Polish:

- State of the art Analysis;
- Guide on supporting L2 self-directed learners using OER
- Link to the E-platform containing:
  - o E-course addressed to language e-learning Supporters
  - o E-course addressed to autonomous language Learners

During the meeting, a “best practice” of an e-learning project has been presented by the Italian partner. TRIO represents the Tuscany Region’s e-learning system, offering the possibilities to selected long-term unemployed and disadvantaged people to attend e-courses in many field. <http://www.progettotrio.it/trio/> The testing phase of the outputs is now starting in all partners’ countries. It is going to be carried out between April and September 2017. A total of 40 self-administered learners and 20 learning supporters are being involved in France, Italy and UK. Any language learner or supporter willing to participate to the pilot can access the Platform at the following link:

A stakeholder Committee is going to be organized in each partner country. The Committee will help to promote mainstreaming, target groups involvement into the pilot, keeping target groups informed about the project and assuring a better dissemination and exploitation. Members also will give feedback on the methodology developed.
